

About Family Works

We provide wraparound early intervention services using a mana-enhancing, bicultural approach. We support tamariki and whānau to overcome challenges around trauma, family violence, and child safety. We are a team of social workers, counsellors, family violence specialists, parent educators, and programme facilitators. Our services are child-centred and whānau-led. We work alongside people to help them meet their goals so their whānau is safe, secure, and well.

Our services

- Social Work
- Counselling
- Reducing family violence services
- Education programmes
- Social Workers in Schools
- School-based programmes

Our programmes

- Parenting 3 – 11 year olds
- Parenting children with trauma
- Whānau with or at risk of violence
- Safety for children 5 – 11 years old
- Ministry of Justice Non-Violence and Safety Programmes

Our approach

- Our services are free
- We build on whānau strengths
- We take a whānau approach
- We will work with other agencies to support children, families and whānau
- Our staff are qualified and registered in their area of work
- Our team bring professional expertise as well as manaaki and aroha for every situation

Scan QR code to learn more or donate.

